SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGIST IN COMMUNICATION SCIENCES AND DISORDERS

The Roxelyn and Richard Pepper Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders at Northwestern University is searching for a part time clinical faculty member in speech-language pathology. The successful applicant will be responsible for provision of clinical care, work with graduate students, and support of research and educational missions of the Department’s Voice, Speech, Language Service and Swallowing Center on the Chicago campus.

The position will be primarily housed in the downtown Chicago campus in the Voice, Speech, Language Service and Swallowing Center located on Northwestern’s medical campus. The successful applicant will provide specialized care to inpatients at Northwestern Memorial Hospital. The ideal candidate will have specialized experience managing infants with feeding disorders in a Level III neonatal intensive care unit. Ability to provide cross-coverage in the adult population (motor speech, dysphagia, language, cognition) is preferred.

Employment term: An 11-month position. Start date is March 1st, 2019. The appointment may be renewed on an annual basis.

Qualifications:
1. Earned Master’s or Ph.D. in Speech-Language Pathology
2. Eligibility for Illinois SLP licensure
3. Clinical experience in:
   o Feeding and dysphagia assessment and management in infants

Duties:
- Provide exceptional, evidence-based diagnosis and treatment for patients in an acute-care hospital setting.
- Collaborate with members of a multidisciplinary team
- Perform and interpret pediatric diagnostic videofluoroscopic swallow studies

Salary: Commensurate with experience.

Application procedure: Send cover letter describing your clinical interests and experience, a current vita (including e-mail address), and three letters of recommendation to the Search Committee Chair, Kristin Larsen. Forward questions to Kristin Larsen, Assistant Clinic Director at k-larsen@northwestern.edu. For more information about the Clinic and Department, please visit: http://www.communication.northwestern.edu/clinic
The University: Northwestern University is one of the nation’s largest private research universities. The main campus is located in Evanston and the medical campus is located 12 miles south in Chicago. Both campuses are located on the shore of Lake Michigan. There is continuing expansion of University facilities and programs, particularly in the sciences and medicine. Diverse cultural, social, and recreational activities abound on and near each campus.

Closing Date: Ongoing until position is filled.

Review of applications will begin immediately.

Northwestern University is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States.