Musical Theatre Search, 2017-2018

Northwestern University’s Department of Theatre seeks an accomplished theatre artist in musical theatre for a full-time tenure-track assistant professor position beginning September 1, 2018.

The successful candidate will teach courses in musical theatre, including musical techniques (combining acting, singing, and movement coaching), auditioning, and master classes in the candidate’s specialty area; mentor undergraduate students with interests in acting, directing and/or producing; and collaboratively work within a team of faculty artists and scholars.

MFA in Acting, MFA in Directing or equivalent professional experience is required and university teaching experience is preferred. Applications and supporting documents (cover letter, current CV, and the contact information of two references) will be accepted only by online submission at the following link: https://facultyrecruiting.northwestern.edu/apply/NDg=

Review of applications will begin January 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Northwestern University’s Department of Theatre offers undergraduate degrees in dance (BA, BS) and theatre (BA, BS); graduate degrees in directing (MFA) and design (MFA); and a Ph.D. in interdisciplinary theatre studies. It features 40 full-time faculty, 400+ undergraduate majors, and 60+ graduate students. It is located on Northwestern University’s Evanston campus in greater Chicago.

Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes, including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women, underrepresented racial and ethnic minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States.
